ACT: Community Arts Engagement Minor

As part of the Artists, Community and Teaching (ACT) Program, the Community Arts Engagement minor is for students who wish to work in art/design education and socially engaged art/design practices in venues that do not require a teaching credential, such as K-12 private schools, museum education departments, community art centers, correctional facilities, therapeutic arts programs, public art, design companies that focus on educational materials, and the use of art and design as an agent for positive social change.

Learning Outcomes:
Students who complete the Community Arts Engagement Minor will:
• Develop and articulate a meaningful connection between their studio art/design practice and an engagement with their community.
• Demonstrate an understanding of the practices and theories of arts education and community engagement.
• Demonstrate an understanding of career opportunities for community-based and teaching artists/designers.
• Develop, and in some cases implement, innovative and engaging projects for school or community settings.
• Participate in professional practice training through off-campus teaching and community arts internships.

Eligibility
The Community Arts Engagement minor is open to all majors. Students must be on track in their major and in good academic standing, with fewer than 6 credits behind and a cumulative GPA of 2.0.

Required Courses

LIBS213	Teaching for Learning I	3.0	(spring only)
AHCS221	Community Arts in LA	3.0	(spring only)
CAIL300	Creative Action Studio*	2.0	(any semester)
LIBS313	Teaching for Learning II	3.0	(spring only)
ACTS335	Community Arts Internship	2.0	(fall only)
ACTS300	Special Topics	2.0	(any semester)
Total Credits		15.0

A limited choice of CAIL Junior Studios will count towards the Community Arts Engagement minor, as determined each semester by the Creative Action and ACT Directors.
See Artists, Community and Teaching Program, Creative Action & Liberal Arts and Sciences Departments for course descriptions.

Each enrolled student will receive an individual Academic Plan that outlines how this minor fits into their major.
